34. Persönliche Anfrage bei B'tselem vom 05. August 2014, beantwortet von

B'tselem am 06.08.2014:

"In the current operation, we only have initial numbers, but obviously those numbers are about to rise dramatically, and the estimations by other organizations are of about 2,000 Palestinian casualties. So, about 2,000 and 8,830 combined are indeed more than 10,000. Even according to our initial figures, there are more than 10,000 casualties in this conflict. As I said, the total number of Israelis is much lower than 1,200. The total Number of Palestinians is dependent on the current operation casualties estimation, but again, even with our initial numbers, it is about 9,000 (8,877). The number of Israeli soldiers who died (at the moment) is exactly 64. Additionally, indeed 3 civilians died in the Israeli side - but only 2 of them were Israeli citizens, the other is a Thai citizen."
